If we work upon marble, it will perish; if on brass time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, and imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something that will brighten to all eternity.

ANNOUNCING

Grade 8

1954 - 1955

Glynn, Bill: I'll think---someday.

McClung, Gary: If intelligence is all it takes he'd be a whiz.

Daggett, Judy: She's not as stern as she looks.

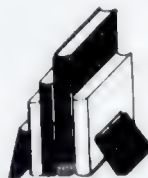

Housel, Iantha: She isn't bashful, she isn't shy,
She's really nice;
What more could you buy?

Pulliam, Phyllis: 'The quiet one.'

Dash, Tom: "I'm not afraid of work; I can lie down by it all the time."

Sullivan, Barbara: Happy-Go-Lucky.

Groves, Oren: He'll go down trying!

Elliot, Judy: She likes to yell,
She likes to scream,
That's why we have her cheer for the team.

Birge, Bill: He's always alert but never awake.

Hodges, Carol: She is tall and rather shy
But with that mischief in her eye.

Cole, George L.: Red headed whiz.
(Joe)

Jackson, Judy: Carefree--sometimes.

Anderson, Larry: A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.

Boyer, Lynette: It is good to lengthen to the last a sunny mood.

Braden, Robert: I think; therefore, I am.

Brady, Karen: I am sure care's an enemy to life.

Brown, Darlene: Write me as one who loves his fellow men.

Clark, Jack: No legacy is so rich as honesty.

Cole, Richard: Tomorrow let my sun his beams display,
Or in clouds hide them; I have lived today.

Fathauer, Dale: Every man has three characters; that which he exhibits, that which he has, and that which he thinks he has.

Fultz, Imogene: That load becomes light which is cheerfully borne.

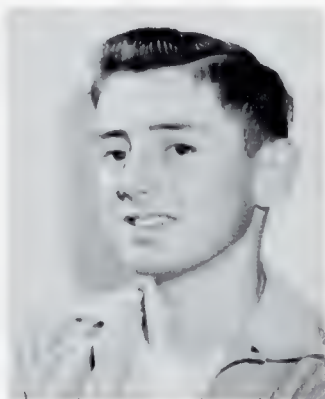

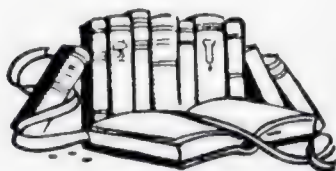

Garren, Helen: Gentleness succeeds better than violence.

Gray, Roxie: Chance is a word void of sense; nothing can exist without a cause.

Grissom, Everett: There's a good time coming boy! a good time coming.

Hall, Eddie: A moments thinking is an hour in words.

Hughes, Marcia: Fearless minds climb soonest unto crowns.

Hughes, Tony: 'Tis always morning somewhere in the world.

Marlow, Harold: The rule of my life is to make business a pleasure and pleasure my business.

Morgan, Lynette: I am a part of all that I have met.

Odle, Phillip: Gentle in manner, strong in performance.

Query, Walter: A little group of wise hearts is better than a wilderness of fools.

Reason, Phillip: My crown is in my heart, not on my head,
A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy.

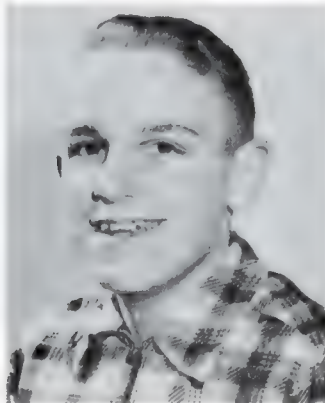

Rose, Robert: Let not the sun go down upon your wrath.

Streich, Glen John: Happy and--from care I'm free---
Why aren't they all contented like me.

Wattles, Darrell: He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty.

Wilson, Curtis: Politeness costs nothing and gains everything.

Withers, Joan: Nothing is impossible to a valiant heart.

O this learning, what a thing it is!

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not. It is the first lesson that ought to be learned.

Fame usually comes to those who are thinking about something else--very rarely to those who say to themselves, "Go to, now let us be a celebrated individual!" The struggle for fame, as such, commonly ends in notoriety;---that ladder is easy to climb, but it leads to the pillory which is crowded with fools who could not hold their tongues and rogues who could not hide their tricks.

We are not thinking about fame here, but rather, building a foundation--for with such are all great things begun.

The Maroa Grade School Safety Patrol is made up of boy volunteers from the seventh and eighth grades. At the end of the first semester sixth grade boys are invited to join and are trained during the second semester.

The primary job of the Patrol is school safety--on the sidewalks, crossings, playgrounds, gym, stairs and hallways. Patrol members also help in such functions as basketball games, programs, caring for the flag and lunch room order. The members elect their own officers and they in turn run the program of "cadet duty" according to the rules and regulations established by the group.

The Patrol enjoys several "outings" each year including a Millikin basketball game, a county picnic in Decatur and several "play" days held on Saturday mornings in our own gymnasium.

Our Safety Patrol boys are under the supervision and guidance of Mr. Fassett.
